Privacy Policy for Little Ones At Home

Last updated: 10th February, 2023

At Little Ones At Home, we take your privacy seriously and are committed to protecting the personal information that you share with us.

This privacy policy outlines how we collect, use, and store your personal information in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and the Data Protection Act 2018.

Information Collection and Use

We collect personal information from parents and guardians of toddlers who participate in our coaching services. This information includes names, addresses, email addresses, and telephone numbers. We also collect information about the children, such as their names and ages. This information is necessary for us to provide our coaching services and communicate with you about our services.

We use the information we collect to:

- Provide our coaching services to you and your child
- Communicate with you about our services
- Improve our services and provide you with the best possible experience
- Respond to any questions or concerns you may have
- Keep you informed about events and promotions related to Little Ones At Home

Data Storage and Security

We store your personal information on secure servers and take appropriate technical and organisational measures to protect your personal information from unauthorised access, use, disclosure, alteration, or destruction.

Data Sharing and Transfer

We do not sell or rent your personal information to third parties. We may share your personal information with third-party service providers who perform functions on our behalf, such as sending emails or processing payments. These third-party service providers are prohibited from using your personal information for their own purposes and are required to protect your personal information in accordance with this privacy policy.
